The Depth Coaching Workshop

An offering from John Schuster, PCC and Christina Clinton

www.JohnPSchuster.com www.christinaclinton.com

This ICF-approved learning event will expand a coach's range of choices and methods. It is a type of psychologically-informed leadership and transition coaching, evidence-based and intuition-enhanced. This is a blended learning process (class room and/or online) at two levels of intensity (3 or 12 CCEs from ICF). Offerings will be in New York City, Houston or entirely online.

Benefits

- Coaches, counselors, and HR professionals who also coach, will deepen and broaden their skill base for better client outcomes in both leadership and life transition settings.
- Therapists and counselors who are considering or starting coaching gain clarity on their next steps.

Discussion

Neurobiology, mindfulness, Jungian psychology, intuitive intelligence and more are converging into an emerging body of knowledge and practices that inform and guide the Depth Coaching Curriculum. Our approach honors the excellent work in the coaching field as captured in many books and coaching schools. Core concepts and considerations include the power of the imagination, the stages of adult/leadership development, improving our habit patterns, and the purpose-driven self.
